Points Provo.

Provo, June 20, 1883.

Editors Herald:

The closing exercises of the school year of the Brigham Young Academy, which took place on Friday of last week, were the most important event of recent date. Many of the parents and guardians of pupils from other settlements were present, and after the closing exercises the students with their friends participated in a social party, and Saturday morning most of them left for their respective homes in company with their parents. We noticed Mr. John Crook, Mr. George W. Clyde, and Richard Jones, Esq., of Heber City, and Bishop Benjamin Cluff, of Centre Creek, in Wasatch County, passing up through Provo Canyon with their carriages loaded down with students from the academy. We have no objection to the young students going home to spend their vacation, but they have actually carried off with them some of the brightest intellectual ornaments from Provo society.

Our patriotic citizens were called to meet at the court house last evening to make arrangements for an old fashioned celebration of American Independence, and there will probably be an effort made to have the balloon which is to ascend in Salt Lake descend here. It is thought that a balloon ascension will be quite as attractive as the ascension, though we have not learned of any special committee being appointed to attend to this balloon business.

We have recently had several runaways that would compare favorably with anything of the kind that has taken place elsewhere, and although we may be called "chronic grumblers" we really have nothing to complain of while our telephone continues to amuse us.

THERE IS SOMETHING ALMOST MIRACULOUS in the rapidity with which GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP eradicates the Itch and several other loathsome Skin Diseases which spread with fearful effects in densely populated localities. Its cures in such cases have attracted universal attention, and prompted numbers of unscrupulous dealers to get up ingenious counterfeits of a positively ingenious character. Be sure to ask for GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. Take none other. Sold by Druggists.

A Nuisance.

Editors Herald:

SALT LAKE CITY, June 21, '83.

"There is no rest for the wicked," and there seems to be no rest for the good as well. In the neighborhood of the Twenty-first Ward there is a great nuisance that should be abated. Some persons are inclined to be musical hampers and try to play upon cornets to the utter disgust of everyone that lives near. The players are three strong, and they not only drive persons nearly crazy, but keep them from their sleep up to an early hour in the morning. For one that loves a good night's rest, and one that feels for others as well as himself, I think it should be stopped. If there was any music in the individuals who think, probably, that their neighbors are enjoying the strains, it would be different, but when one is compelled to listen to something supposed to be music, then I kick.

Why is Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound like the Mississippi river in a spring freshet? Because the immense volume of this healing river moves with such momentum that it sweeps away all obstacles and is literally flooding the country.

President Taylor and Party.

DESERET, June 19th, 1883.

Editors Herald:

On Sunday at 5.15 p.m., Presidents Taylor and Geo. Q. Cannon and Apostle F. M. Lyman and others arrived at the Deseret station. The people were there en masse to welcome them. A meeting was held at 7 o'clock which was addressed by Presidents Taylor and Cannon and F. M. Lyman and much valuable instruction was given. On Monday morning at 8 o'clock, the party was in carriages for a ride and to view the farming facilities which are as extensive as in any valley in Utah. On their return they visited the dam and Sevier River and expressed themselves pleased with the prospect of a large settlement. At 10 o'clock a.m. the large bowery was filled and addresses were made by President Cannon, Bishop John Sharp and President Taylor, and the people truly had a feast of fat things and expressed themselves as endeavoring to carry out the counsel of living closer together. At 3 o'clock p.m., the party was all on the special train, feeling well in body and spirits. Bishops Black and Kimball accompanied the party to Milford. The crops have never been so promising and an abundant harvest is expected, and the visit of the president and party will long be remembered. Respectfully,
J. S. B.
